8. The social distancing requirement in the CDC guidelines, the governor's executive order, and the Board of County Commissioner's Safer at Home order directs everyone not to congregate in groups of more than ten people and that people not of the same family unit must remain six feet apart. This must be adhered to in a practical way while using common sense. To clarify, the directives do not prohibit ten people from being in one building or place. More than ten people are allowed in grocery stores, churches, parks, etc.; however, they must be six feet apart from those not in their family unit.

The following are some examples of what is permitted and prohibited:

- a. It is permitted to have eight people who are not part of the same family unit in a doctor's office waiting room if they are six feet apart.
- b. It is permitted to have a husband and wife sit next to each other in a doctor's waiting room if they are separated from other patients by six feet.

- c. It is permitted to have a family of four, family of three, and family of five all sit in the same pew of a place of worship if each family unit is separated by six feet.
- d. It is prohibited to have six people who are not in the same family unit and who are not each separated by six feet in one church pew.
- e. It is prohibited to have 15 customers who are not part of the same family unit all gathered less than six feet apart standing in front of the grocery store deli counter.
- f. It is prohibited to have six people who are not part of the same family unit standing within six feet of one another along the rail on a pier watching the sunset.
- g. It is permitted to have more than 10 people on the pier all watching the sunset if they are individuals or in family units and are separated by at least six feet.
